

#148: HOW TO DO A GREAT JOHN HOWARD IMPRESSION

note: apologises for lateness; the original person assigned to this script refused to write it because it was at conflict with his ethics.

I don't need to know about this.

Hello, I'm Nick Austin, and welcome to How-To, where today we'll be learning how to do a great Prime Minister John Howard Impression. It's important to be able to stick it up to people in power, and a great way to do it is with a funny impression, that both makes people laugh and impresses those around you.

What you'll need is yourself, confidence, and the ability to become a great actor. What does this mean?

Step One

Practice your impression by searching for Prime Minister John Howard clips on youtube.com. While videos of him talking with other people is good, speeches are preferred because he is uninterrupted so you will get used to his mannerisms quicker.

You can also watch the news and wait until he comes up, but this will take more time.

Step Two

Practice replicating his voice, mannerisms, and gestures until you have the perfect impression.

This is it? Elaborate.

Step Three

Get invited to a party or social event, where you can practice your impression. We have already demonstrated this before in a previous video, so there is no need to demonstrate this here.

And if they haven't seen it?

Step Four

Find someone to talk to. This can be someone you already know or are meeting for the first time. Either way, they probably know who Prime Minister John Howard is, so it is time to break out your impression.

Step Five

Do your impression and enjoy their laughter.

That's it! Soon people will not be able to get enough of your impression, and its uncanny resemblance to Prime Minister John Howard. You might even make a friend who is really into politics and get to talk about kinds of news stories and exciting developments here and abroad.

Makes no sense

Join us next time for when we will be learning how to ~~Tie a Tie~~, already told you to change this to Nintendo Wii demonstration and until then, remember that "What we do not know, we often fear. What we do not understand, we fear. And what we fear becomes a threat." This is not John Howard

END OF VIDEO

A lot of work to do

Need revisions before 03/09/07